

Agreement for participation in Possibility Management Training

Patrizia Servidio works as trainer and coach based on Possibility Management © and offers the participants (in the following also called clients) in trainings and coachings new possibilities and perspectives, which serve the personal development and the development of potential. During these trainings and coachings the participant is his/her own authority at any time and bears full responsibility for his/her participation and acting. Please read the following text attentively:

- Possibility Management Trainings are based on the context of absolute self-responsibility of all participants. The trainings differ from conventional trainings in the way that the learning does not only occur on an intellectual level, but holistically in all four bodies (physical, intellectual, emotional and energetic body). This is the prerequisite for enabling really lasting and profound learning success. However, this different kind of learning can also cause unfamiliar reactions in all four bodies. By participating in a training or coaching the participant acknowledges this and agrees that he/she bears full responsibility for any automatic reaction, which could arise for him/her during this learning process. He/she also bears 100% responsibility for looking after his /her physical, mental, emotional and energetic well-being.
- Patrizia Servidio is neither alternative practitioner nor psychotherapist and does not replace them either. Ongoing treatments and therapies shall not be interrupted or cancelled and future treatments or therapies shall not be postponed or omitted. The trainings and coachings serve the personal development. They do not represent medical science and are no substitute for professional medical, medicinal, psychological and / or psycho-therapeutical treatments. Nicola Nagel does not provide any diagnosis, therapies or treatments in the medical context or any other medical science in legal context. The offered trainings and coachings provide a holistic development for body, mind and soul, without guaranteeing success. Nicola Nagel does not give healing promises so that false hope is not raised.
- The client participates in a training or coaching provided that he does not know of any illnesses or health constraints and that there are no other medical indications that would exclude his /her participation in the training or coaching.
- By registering, the participant declares that he/she participates in the training or coaching by free choice, that he/she is not under alcohol or drug influence and that he/she will not consume any alcohol or drugs until the end of the training.
- By participating in a training, the client agrees that he/she respects and handles all information about other participants, their words and actions, which he/she experiences during the training, strictly confidential.
- By participating in a training or coaching the client automatically agrees that he/she has read, understood and accepted the above notes as well as the GTC of Patrizia Servidio – Die Berufungswerkstatt.
